CO. TEACHERS ASK HERBERT TO BACK BILL

Governor Declines To Indorse Measure at Request of Delegation from Here.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert refused flatly today to indorse the Daniels-Cramer school bill when asked by a delegation of Marion county school officials to do so.

Instead, the governor told them the schools would be given a "substantial increase" in state funds but the amount would have to depend upon the amount required to finance other state activities. The Associated Press reported in a dispatch from Columbus.

The governor also made it clear that he would not permit any tax increase in order to give the schools all they are demanding.

"I do not propose to increase taxes in the state of Ohio at this time." The governor replied in answer to a query from County Superintendent D. T. Mills if there was anything to prevent an increase in the sales tax or opening up other sources of revenue.

Robert Thomas, a teacher in the Pleasant township (Marion county) local school asked the governor to give a straight indorsement of the Daniels-Cramer bill or its equivalent, which he refused to give. Herbert said the Daniels-Cramer bill would cost $100,000,000 a year, or an increase from $59,000,000 which he indicated could not be given.

Income Below Expenses

Edward Howell, a classroom teacher in the Caledonia schools, gave the governor a copy of his family budget for last year showing that he spent $2,688 while receiving an income of only $1,859. He said he was compelled to make up the difference by cashing his war bonds that he had accumulated while working in a defense plant during the war.

Thomas told the governor that the Marion county teachers are "unanimously opposed to a work stoppage." They want to fulfill their contracts, he said. He said the teachers, however, "must fight against any further deterioration of our school system."

Thomas also told the executive that school equipment was at such low level that the science classes are unable to conduct the most primary experiments.

In Marion yesterday spokesman for the Marion County Teachers association said the group planned a mass march on the state legislature next week unless Gov. Herbert gave the committee a definite and positive statement of his support of the school program.

A committee composed of Mr. Thomas, Mr. Howell and A. B. Augenstein was empowered to make detailed arrangements for the march.

Herbert Told Ohio Teachers May Strike for Higher Wages

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 28 — A frank warning that Ohio school teachers may go on strike for higher salaries faced the state's chief executive today.

"We are discouraging strikes and marches as best we can, but I don't know whether we will be able to hold them," George C. Berry, Franklin county school superintendent, informed Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

Berry was one of a group of 20 school superintendents and other officials, under the chairmanship of Sam Dillon, Hocking county superintendent, who called upon the governor to acquaint him with the financial situation facing the state's schools.

Without naming them, Berry added that "some subversive forces are working among the teachers" and that some—also unnamed — labor representatives were seeking the opportunity of leading the teachers in the campaign for hike in pay.

"The union groups," Berry continued, "are telling the teachers that the superintendents and school boards are doing very little to remedy their financial situation and asking them to let the unions lead them."

The Franklin county educator explained that his group opposed strikes and suggestions for marches upon the state capital, but warned that the teachers "are going to do something when they have to borrow money to live on."

James Turner, Malta-McConnelsville superintendent, agreed, observing that "all the teachers need to strike is a leader."

Herbert told the group he realized the difficulties of the schools' financial situation, agreed that something should be done about it, and added that "the extent of the help is the only question to be solved."

The governor indicated, however, that he opposed a suggestion that immediate financial help be granted the schools, prior to action by the state legislature on proposals now before it.

"I am pointing to the next school year which begins July 1," he said.

Dillon predicted the schools may not be able to hold many of their teachers until the end of the year unless wage adjustments were made. Despite increased school grants by the last session of the legislature, he said, the actual financial condition of many institutions was worse because of a decrease in state aid due to

Red Cross Opens Drive For $27,060 Saturday

Workers in the 1947 financial campaign to raise $27,060, Marion county's quota of the American Red Cross national goal of $60,000,000, will launch their drive in an overall canvass of city and county, Saturday. Chairmen have met with their committees and workers during the week, material has been distributed from campaign headquarters at 193 East Center street, and everything is in readiness, Clarence Shockney, campaign chairman, announced today.

Approximately 500 men and women in the city and county will take part in the drive.

"Give Where You Live" is the campaign slogan and this year the canvass is to be conducted differently in that no workers will be contacted at their places of employment but in the house-to-house canvass. "It is our hope that every adult in each family will be a subscriber this year," the campaign committee states.

Red Cross Month

While the month of March has been designated as Red Cross month and the drive will not end officially until March 31, it is the aim of the local campaign committee to make a complete canvass of city and county in two weeks. In order that this may be accomplished the special gifts committee, headed by Otis Porter, and a committee soliciting industrial management began their work last Monday and as a result will have completed their part of the drive this week. Kenneth Fields is chairman of the industrial management committee and assisting as co-chairman is Robert Williams.

Mrs. John Dowler heads the workers in the house-to-house canvass which will be conducted in wards and precincts. Each ward will be headed by a captain and each precinct in charge of a lieutenant. Contributors are asked to display their membership stickers in doors or windows as soon as they are enrolled. The first report meeting will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at headquarters.

Headquarters Staff

At headquarters where Mrs. M. C. Murphy, staff assistance chairman, and Mrs. John Dugan, assistant, are in charge, volunteer workers have been busy distributing material throughout the week and arranging workers' meetings. The women workers met Wednesday to receive instructions and supplies and yesterday afternoon the men's teams met for final checkups.

Aiding in the campaign also are members of the Girl Scouts, who took over the work of placing the posters in the windows of the downtown business places. Merchants are cooperating by arranging special displays in their windows and shoppers and downtown business men and women will be made Red Cross conscious with the display of Red Cross flags around the courthouse during the drive.

Heading the county solicitors are Arthur H. Smith, chairman, Mrs. Floyd Topliff of LaRue and Elmer L. Weimer of Marion.

JUMPS TRACK NEAR SCENE OF EARLIER WRECK

Porter Killed Mile and Quarter from Spot of "Red Arrow" Tragedy.

By The Associated Press

GALLITZIN, Pa., Feb. 28—The last car of the Pennsylvania Railroad's New York-to-Texas "Sunshine Special" tore loose from the train at the peak of the Alleghanies in the pre-dawn darkness today, careened wildly down the mountainside and plowed into an embankment, killing a Pullman porter and injuring 11 passengers.

The car, tearing loose from the train at the crest of the Allegheny mountains while one of its two engines were being cut off, took off in a three and one-half mile solo run backwards.

Gathering speed as it went, it zipped past Bennington curve where 11 days ago the wreck of the "Red Arrow" claimed 24 lives and injured nearly 150 others.

A mile and one-quarter farther, the rear wheels of the sleeper left the rails and plowed into an embankment. The front wheels remained on the tracks as the car stayed upright.

The victim of the crash today was identified by the railroad as L. Keys, a Pullman employe.

Railroad officials at Pittsburgh began an immediate investigation, centering the probe principally around why the car's automatic airbrakes failed to operate.

2 Questions To Answer

"There [illegible] what we want to know first," the spokesman, adding that the investigators will also seek to find out "how the car uncoupled from the train while it was standing still at the top of the mountain.

The train had stopped outside Gallitzin to take off one of two engines used to pull it up the treacherous and tough mountain-climb.

Passengers in the other sleepers and coaches did not know the train had lost a car until it reached Pittsburgh, about 100 miles west of here.

The injured were taken to Altoona, six miles east of the accident, by the PRR's New York-to-St. Louis "Jeffersonian." Two were admitted to Mercy hospital, nine to Altoona hospital. None was reported in serious condition.

The accident occurred at 3:54 a. m.

Stopped for Unknown Reason

The spokesman said the New York-to-Texas train stopped for "some unknown reason" outside Gallitzin as he neared the top of the scenic Allegheny mountainside. Suddenly the rear car broke loose.

It remained on the tracks, however, racing backwards for three and a half miles, until it hit the first curve east of Bennington.

Then the car jumped the tracks. But it remained upright, one end plowing into the dirt embankment.

The Sunshine Special's injured were taken to Altoona by the

SCHOOL MEETING TONIGHT FOR KIRKPATRICK DISTRICT

To Consider Feasibility of New County Building.

Marion County School Superintendent D. T. Mills said today the meeting at Kirkpatrick school tonight at 8 o'clock to discuss the possible consolidation of the Caledonia, Scott and Tully township schools was for residents of the Kirkpatrick school dictrict only and not for all three schools as announced yesterday.

No meeting has been scheduled for residents of the combined three-school area, Mrs. Mills said.

The proposed merger would create a school district with the greatest area and largest enrollment in Marion county and would provide for the construction of a new school building centrally located in the three communities.

School officials feel such a merger would provide the three communities with better educational facilities for less cost.

HOOVER SAYS RELIEF SHOULD BE AS LOANS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—Former President Herbert Hoover called on congress today to put United States relief abroad on a loan rather than a gift basis. He also urged establishment of the post of foreign relief administrator to coordinate this country's missions of mercy.

Only a day after he recommended that the United States spend $475,000,000 for the relief of Germany alone over the 18-month period beginning last Jan. 1, he was called to give his view before the house foreign affairs committee on a proposed bill to expend $350,000,000 in five other European countries and China.

Just back from making a three weeks' survey of Europe's food needs, Hoover contends that relief for the other European countries should not be put at higher levels than those he recommended for Germany and Austria.

Woman Killed Near Prospect

Mrs. Anna Evans Struck by Auto as She Leaves Bus Near Home.

Mrs. Anna Katherine Evans, 62, of near Prospect, was killed last night at 7:15 when she was struck by an automobile as she alighted from a bus in front of her home on Route 203 about a mile south of the Marion-Delaware county line.

The state patrol said Mrs. Evans had gotten off the southbound bus and, as she crossed behind it when it started, was hit by a northbound automobile driven by John Junior Jones, 31, of near Prospect. She had come from Marion.

Her body was badly mangled by the impact, the patrol reported. She was taken into her house by her husband, John, and the driver of the car. It is believed she was killed instantly or died soon after the accident. Dr. [illegible] T. Gray of Prospect was called and pronounced her dead on his arrival.

The accident marked the fourth fatality in this area within recent weeks, the patrol said.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans had lived for many years on a farm near Prospect. She was a member of St. Paul Lutheran church in Prospect and was active in the missionary aid society of the church.

She was born in Marion county, Oct. 6, 1885, daughter of Fred and Mary Haas Vollmer, natives of Germany.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are two sisters, Mrs. Katherine Hoyman of Lancaster and Mrs. Christine Evans of Galion and two brothers, Charles of Columbus and George of Lewiston, Idaho.

Funeral services will be held at St. Paul Lutheran church in Prospect, Rev. Paul E. Augenstein officiating. Date and time had not been set at noon today.

Friends may call at the Gehm funeral home in Prospect today after 8 p. m. Burial will be made in Radnor cemetery.

Tax Office Filled As Deadline Nears

Real estate taxpayers were lined up in the Marion county treasurer's office today to beat tomorrow's deadline on the first half of 1946 real estate tax collection.

County Treasurer Marion E. Hinklin said approximately $30,000 must be collected today and tomorrow in order to meet the county's half charge for 1946. Collections as of last night totaled $594,504.83.

The treasurer's office will be open from 7 to 8 tonight and until 3 p. m. tomorrow to enable taxpayers to meet the deadline.

Carey Firemen Battling Truck Blaze Pick Money Out of Air

Special to The Star

CAREY, Feb. 28 — Firemen from the Carey fire department were astonished yesterday when paper money in $5, $10, $20 and $50 bills came floating to the ground from a truck loaded with household goods in which they were battling a blaze. It is believed the money, which the firemen estimated at a total of $1,500 after it was recovered by them, was in a glass jar among the goods and that it exploded from the intense heat of the fire.

The goods, belonging to Mrs. Andrew Cross of Upper Sandusky, were being moved in the truck from there to Findlay. Mrs. Cross had not been contacted as to whether she knew the money was there or not and exactly what the total amount was. Other canned goods in the truck also exploded from the heat of the fire.

The truck caught fire about 5 o'clock last night on Route 23 about two miles south of Carey while the driver was coming into Carey. F. L. Buckingham of Milan, O., the driver, was told about the fire when a motorist passed him from behind. He turned into the driveway of a dairy farmer, Ed Weaver, and discovering he could not put out the blaze alone, called the fire department. The contents of the truck was destroyed, but the truck was only slightly burned. The cause of the blaze was not determined.

Report Britain Asks U. S. To Assume Greek Pledges

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—Britain, her domestic economy near the breaking point, was reported in congressional and diplomatic quarters today to have proposed that the United States take over her commitments in Greece on a large scale.

Although there was no White House confirmation, this was understood to have been the subject—at least in part—of a highly secretive White House conference yesterday among President Truman, his diplomatic advisers, and key legislators.

One course said that the United States would issue a statement soon on what part, if any, it would assume in helping the shaky Greek government.

(In London, a foreign office spokesman said British and United States discussions were under way in Washington on the problem of continuing the economic and military obligations in strife-torn Greece now borne by Britain.

Arms Purchase Hinted

(The spokesman implied one aspect of the talks was the continued provision of foreign currency with which Greece could purchase arms and military equipment.

(The discussions, he added, arose out of the ending March 31, of Britain's commitment to maintain the Greek armed forces. The same spokesman said he saw no prospects of U. S. military forces being sent to the country after Britains forces get out.

(Other government sources said Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was planning to withdraw Britain's remaining 10,000 troops from Greece within the next three months.)

It was learned from diplomats in Washington that the whole problem of Greece, together with a report on Britain's waning resources, was laid before Secretary of State Marshall by Lord Inverchapel, British ambassador to this country, at a recent conference.

Budget Revision Necessary

Should the United States decide to take over a large share of British commitments in Greece, and perhaps elsewhere, to help restore Europe's stability, it could well force a complete redrafting of this nation's plans for foreign relief expenditures.

This in turn might force an upward revision of both President Truman's budget estimates, a

NON-STOP TRIP HONOLULU-N. Y. MADE BY P-82

4,978 Miles Covered in 14½ Hours as New Record for Type of Aircraft.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 — The Betty Jo, Army P-82 fighter, completed a 4,978-mile non-stop flight from Honolulu at 11:06 a. m. today in approximately 14 hours and 30 minutes.

Just two minutes and 44 seconds after the twin-engine fighter roared out of a blue sky over La-Guardia field, it made a perfect landing—at 11:08:44 a. m. It took off from Hickam field, Honolulu, at 6:33 p. m. last night.

Emergency equipment lined the runway of the big airport as the Betty Jo zoomed in, prepared for an emergency landing.

The pilot, Lt. Col. Robert E. Thacker of El Centro, Calif., and co-pilot, Lt. John M. Ard of Inglewood, Calif., won a daring bid against 65-mile headwinds over Pennsylvania and dangerously low fuel tanks to reach their New York objective.

"Taking Shot At N. Y."

"We're going to take a shot at New York," they said by radio over western Pennsylvania.

An hour later they hit their mark.

Aviation and army officials had "sweat out" the Betty Jo's flight eastward from Chicago when her crew began to worry about rapidly draining fuel.

Airports along the route were alerted and at small airports across Ohio and Pennsylvania men gazed tensely at the sky, momentarily expecting the flight to end in their own fields.

But Col. Thacker pushed his plane on.

As the Betty Jo taxied to a standstill, Col. Thacker, his face grey with fatigue but smiling happily, swung out on a wing.

Suddenly Sights Wife

Suddenly he glimpsed in the crowd his wife, Betty Jo, for whom his plane was named.

"Hey, look out!" he cried, leaping to the ground, "that's my wife!"

Flinging his arms around her he kissed her, shouting, as if still speaking above the roar of engines, "I am kissing you now."

The Betty Jo is a new type long-range fighter which looks like two P-51 Mustang fuselages built into a single wing. The plane was named after Col. Thacker's wife.

The log of the Betty Jo as she roared eastward read like the flight of a magic carpet.

Hits 400 Miles Per Hour

Over the Pacific she traveled at more than 400 miles per hour at times.

Speed was slackened somewhat because the crew was unable to jettison a gasoline tank to lighten the ship. Later, however, it reportedly dropped the tank near the west coast.

At take-off the plane weighed 30,000 pounds, nearly half of the weight in fuel, and believed the heaviest load ever pulled aloft by a fighter plane.

The Betty Jo reported crossing the California coastline in darkness 125 miles north of San Francisco at 3:34 a. m., New York time. Col. Thacker said they were flying at 20,000 feet.

Flies On Instruments

At 6:06 a. m., New York time, the Betty Jo was 85 miles north of Laramie, Wyo., flying on instruments at 22,000 feet.

Roaring eastward over the great plains, the ship swept over Chicago at 7:48 a. m., New York time, hitting a ground speed of 320 miles an hour.

Purpose of the flight was to determine future research and development requirements for planes and pilots to withstand the rigors of extended high-altitude operations on long escort missions.

The plane had planned to take off Feb. 15 but a leaky gasoline tank and poor weather forced several postponements.

IT'S BETTY JO, FEMININE NOT JOE, MASCULINE

By The Associated Press

FAIRFIELD, Calif., Feb. 28—It was the Betty Jo all right, and not the Betty Joe, that set out from Honolulu for a non-stop flight to New York today.

The twin-engine P-82 carries the name of Betty Jo Thacker, wife of Lt. Col. Robert E. Thacker, pilot on the record run.

Photographers theorized that before the army mother plane left for Oahu, big island, Betty Jo announced her as the "Betty Joe." But an Associated Press wirephoto taken just before the take-off of Pioneer Mail plane No. 1 [illegible] the Republic

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATIONS

IN THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS WE GLORY

Today's Text: "God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son." John 3:16.

WHAT is the glory of the Cross? What should it mean to us? The cross, of course, had no allure, no glory, no beauty, no attractiveness when it was first employed by Romans as an instrument of torture and death centuries before our Lord was born. It is quite understandable that the cross was feared and shunned by all men. Romans considered it so degrading that by law no Roman citizen, no matter what his crime, could be put to death by crucifixion. Jews thought it accursed, for Moses had said: "Cursed is he that hangeth upon a tree." And though crucifixion has long been discarded as a method of legal execution of criminals, men in our modern world still shudder at the thought of the unspeakable cruelty and the vengeful hatred of which the cross was a symbol until our Lord hung upon it.

It was not until Christ died upon the "tree" that the cross became a symbol of hope and salvation.

STATE LEGISLATURE O.K.'S BILL, ADJOURNS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 28—Ohio's senate and house of representatives were adjourned today after the lower chamber passed the last of three state administration tax measures before going home for the weekend.

Passed and sent to the senate was a measure providing for reenactment of the one-cent liquid fuel tax for another two years. Yielding about $15,000,000 annually, the liquid fuel tax bill plus the previously approved two-cent cigaret tax measure and the .65 of one per cent utilities excise tax bill would give the state an annual revenue of about $32,500,000 from the three sources.

The new cigaret tax bill makes the levy permanent. The other two taxes are for two years only.

The vote on the liquid fuel tax yeterday was 103 to 13. An amendment submitted by Rep. Fred Hart (D-Summit) which would have split the revenue equally between the highway and general funds was defeated.

Legislative sessions will be resumed at 8 p. m. Monday.

County Supt. Mills On College Program

RUSS BUILDING BIG AIR ARMY

Reported Training a Force Several Times Larger Than U. S. Division.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 — Russia is believed to have an air-borne army in being or in training far surpassing that of any other power.

Information indicates that the Soviet Union's strength in troops trained for lightning strikes from the air may number as high as 100,000 men.

This force compares with the single airborne division which the United States possesses. That division — the 82nd at Fort Bragg, N. C. — has an authorized strength of 13,000 men but presumably is below that figure.

Efforts to bring the 82nd nearer authorized strength have been complicated by the use of trained airborne soldiers as elements of occupation forces in Germany and Japan.

Seen As Misleading

Some strategists note that the reported 100,000-man strength of the Russian airborne force may be misleading because of a possible Soviet deficiency in the important matter of air transportation.

Russia's primary aviation interest during the war was in fighter-type planes. She virtually ignored heavy bomber aircraft and, either because of policy or production difficulties, did little transport plane building. What her strength in transport is today is uncertain.

Lend-lease reports show that during the war the United States turned over to Russia about 700 transport airplanes among the 25,000 delivered.

How many of these 700 transports plus any she may have obtained from Britain and built herself still are operatable is unknown. However, American experts have estimated that it requires about 1,500 transports of existing designs to move one division of about 12,000 men with their equipment.

4,000 Unit During War

During World War II, Russia's standard airborne unit was a brigade of slightly more than 4,000 men used either as parachutists or carried in transports. While details are not known, it is believed that the Red army may have organized its postwar airborne force somewhat along the lines of the United States, into divisions probably about the standard 12,000 strength.

Marion Co. Junior Red Cross Performs Important Service

This is one of a series of stories telling about some of the services of the Marion county chapter of the American Red Cross. The series is published to aid in Marion county's part in the annual fund campaign. Sixty-five per cent of the contribution will remain in Marion county to carry on the chapter's work.

The history of Junior Red Cross shows it to be the largest youth service group in the world today, with a membership of nearly 20,000,000 American young people enrolled through their public, private, and parochial schools.

In classroom after classroom throughout America they have packed gift boxes for children overseas, filling them with paper and pencils, crayons, and paints, barrettes and hair ribbons, and always with a small toy or two. In school and out they have earned money to give to their own special fund, the National Children's Fund, which finances programs of assistance to children in war-devastated countries. Here in the United States they have made comfort and recreational articles for men in army and veterans' hospitals, have helped provide books and library equipment for rural schools, and toys, games, and picture books for children in local institutions and hospitals.

Active in County

In Marion county, Junior Red Cross was organized during the first World War and activities were directed by Mrs. Carl LaMarche, chairman. The present organization of Junior Red Cross, which is really Red Cross in the schools, was organized in 1934 with Mrs. Doxie Crawmer as its chairman.

This year there are 29 Marion county schools — 15 city and 14 county — enrolled in Junior Red Cross, each with 100 per cent enrollments of its pupils. Each school has a teacher sponsor, student officers, room representatives to the city and county council meetings. This council meets monthly in the chapter office. Mrs. W. K. Hamor is serving as Junior Red Cross chairman in the Marion County chapter.

Before Pearl Harbor, students made holiday favors, menu covers, scrap and joke books for the local hospital, Children's Home, Waddell Ladies' Home, Marion County Home, and the Veterans Hospital at Dayton, O. They also carried on intersectional and international correspondence with other J. R. C. members and contributed to the National Children's Fund.

Additional Local Activities

Since Pearl Harbor, Marion county members have carried on all the above projects and in addition, have made numerous ash trays, games, writing boards, afghans, and utility bags, for camps and USO centers both here and abroad. They have participated in the collection of games and coat hangers, and in salvage drives, have helped the Chapter Office in the Fund Campaign, helped furnish the day room at the Marion Engineers' Depot, and have increased their contributions to the National Children's Fund, contributing $256.23 last year. They also filled 114 gift boxes last year for children of the war torn areas.

Set of Figures Flit Before Eyes of Ohio Liquor Investigators

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 28—A set of figures—272, 275 and 332—flitted today before the eyes of those interested in determining how many cases of whisky were aboard a truck, camouflaged with Christmas trees, which was seized by liquor agents near Van Wert last December.

William M. Kelch, liquor enforcement chief who took office a month after the liquor was seized, tossed the first figure, 272, with the statement that the liquor department had impounded that many cases in the central warehouse in Columbus.

Examination of the official transcript of a conference presided over here on Dec. 17 by the then liquor director, Robert H. Sohngen, brought forth the other two figures, 275 and 332.

The transcript of the conference, at which Sohngen talked with the truck driver, Chris Manos of Chicago, and a Chicago attorney, Maxwell Landis, showed statements that one case had been left in the court of Van Wert Mayor Vachel Edwards, and that two more had been taken off by Liquor Inspector William Galayda, in charge of the Toledo district. That added up to the 275 figure.

Mayor Edwards said that the one case, taken to his court as evidence, had been destroyed, but that the carton and broken bottles had been retained. The state's liquor regulations require the destruction of liquor confiscated without state tax stamps.

The 332 figure arose through the contention of Landis and Manos at the conference with Sohngen that 57 cases of the liquor had disappeared from the truck after the liquor agents had seized the shipment. Manos, the transcript showed, admitted that he had "forgotten to bring along" a bill of lading for the shipment, but that 332 cases had been aboard when the truck left Chicago for North Carolina.

Mayor Edwards on Dec. 11 fined Manos $500 and costs on a charge of illegal transportation and $25 and costs on a charge of illegal possession. Later, the mayor granted Manos a new trial and turned the matter over to common pleas court by holding the driver to the grand jury on $500 bond. The grand jury will sit in April.

GUARD SUPPLIES DUE AT DEPOT NEXT WEEK

Prepare To Handle Shipments of Equipment.

Lt. Col. S. L. Meyers of Columbus, in charge of the National Guard supply depot located in the Scioto Ordnance plant area, said today he expects clothing and individual equipment for approximately 5,000 Ohio National Guardsmen to arrive at the depot the latter part of next week.

The supplies will make up the first large shipment to arrive at the depot, set up recently after the Ohio National guard took over the 15-acre site from the federal government on a revokable permit.

A few supplies, including some equipment for an ordnance company, already have arrived, the colonel said, but large shipments will not start before the last of next week.

Seven men now are working on the site to recondition the six buildings which will house the National Guard equipment for the approximately 150 guard units in the state.

Organizational equipment, including machine guns, mortars, field ranges and other larger items also is expected to arrive within the next few weeks.

Marion Purdue Student In Bleachers Crash

Lawrence Feaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feaver of 335 Willow street, was in the collapse of the bleachers at the Purdue-Wisconsin basketball game Monday night but was apparently not hurt, his father learned last night when he spoke to him over the telephone.

He was seated about tenth row from the top of the grandstand, about 52 rows up, when the bleachers folded and he fell about 25 feet. He received a check-up at the university hospital but was not kept there.

The youth was captain of the Harding High school basketball team last year and a member of the band. He is continuing his music interest at Purdue but is not playing basketball. He is a first year student under the Navy V-12 program.

Gilt Wearing Thin on Society's Gold Coast

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 28—The Gilded Age is slowly dying in Palm Beach, for half a century the Gold Coast of the American rich.

But the old guard is fighting stubbornly to keep tightly exclusive this last stronghold of intrenched wealth.

Hal Boyle

"The horror hanging over us here is the danger of becoming another Miami Beach," sighed one longtime resident.

To staid dwellers in this winter Shangri-La of fortune's favorites Miami Beach is just a raucous Coney Island for the nouvelles riches — people who have only had money for one generation.

The difference between the two Florida resorts is that in Miami Beach people slap each other out of the way with hundred dollar bills whereas in Palm Beach they flick dust specks off their waistcoats—pronounced "wes-cutts"—with $10,000 banque cheques. Or they did before the war.

2 Devices Intervene

Two little devices called the income tax and the inheritance tax have changed the situation so that, paradoxically, a well-to-do socialite can still afford Palm Beach while many really rich can't—at least not at their old standard.

Smart comfortably wealthy residents are fitting themselves to the changing pattern of American life by building exquisite smaller houses costing $40,000 to $100,000 and relatively inexpensive to maintain. These make up the "cottage colony."

But many of the old guard ultra-rich are still saddled with the $2,000,000 to $3,500,000 glorified Spanish barns popular in Florida's first heyday. High income taxes and falling interest rates on capital have made the upkeep on these ailing architectural elephants too heavy a drain for even a Palm Beach's inflated income.

Can't Give Away Houses

"You can't even give away those old Spanish homes," one lady said frankly.

As a matter of fact the late Col. Edward R. Bradley, a founder of Palm Beach, left his estate as a gift to the city, if it would undertake to keep it up. The $2,000,000 mansion of the Late Mrs. Eva Stotesbury, regal social leader of the lush nineteen-twenties, was put on the market at $500,000 furnished or $350,000 unfurnished.

Presumably veterans were given preference, but there were no takers, and the furniture is now being raffled off separately. Mrs. James P. Donahue sold her baronial dwelling last spring. It is being broken up into five smaller homes with a street running through the living room.

For several seasons Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Moscow, has left his $3,500,000 palatial residence boarded and shut.

$12,000 Just To Open It

"It would take about two months' work and cost about $12,000 just to open it," said an islander, "and it requires 30 servants to staff it properly."

Society old guards determined to keep their purlieu intact to the last royal palm tree have invoked stern zoning restrictions to prevent financially strapped owners from turning their costly ocean front homes into "private clubs," where several families could rent space during the season.

They have also fought off attempts by commercial hotel owners to buy space in the zoned area. Slowly, however, the Palm Beach of the fabulous past is changing to meet the needs of a new crop of wealthy people who can't afford or don't want the responsibility of 80-room pseudo-Spanish bungalows by the sea.

"But any changes will still be very conservative—the bars won't be let down," firmly said one interpreter for the old order.

Yet I bought a soft drink on the island for a nickel, and a builder told me I could snap up a neat West Indian type cottage for as little as $35,000. So Palm Beach, where in other times a thoughtful hostess imported a whole circus to entertain her tea guests, certainly isn't getting any farther from Brooklyn and the Bronx.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Infra-Red Treatment

If our sense of wonder had not been dulled by the vast accumulation of modern scientific miracles, we would doubtless be a little awe-struck at the fact that mere rays of light can be used for healing purposes. Certainty the man of a hundred years ago would have been. In the first place, light to him was light and nothing more. He did not know that it is composed of rays of many different kinds, some of them, strangely enough, completely invisible to the human eye.

One of these invisible light components is known today as infra-red and we have machines for producing infra-red rays in quantities. They are valuable in the treatment of various diseases because they are able to produce heat within the tissues. The chief effects of this heat are to dilate the blood vessels and speed up the circulation. This, in turn, increases the activity of the white blood cells in getting rid of waste materials and germs, relaxes spasm and tension, and relieves pain due to action on the nerve endings.

Thus, according to Dr. Charles E. Fitzgerald of North Carolina, infra-red ray treatment may be used with benefit whenever the tissues are inflamed, when infection is present, and when there is need to speed up tissue repair. In other words, the infra-red ray treatment may be employed for such conditions as arthritis or inflammation of the joints, sprains and strains, or neuritis. It may be helpful for boils, infected wounds, or prostate gland inflammation. On the other hand, when the condition is deeper in the tissues, an electrical form of treatment known as diathermy may prove to be more valuable.

Infra-red ray treatment should not be employed when there has been an injury with bleeding into the tissues or when there is an insufficiency in the blood supply.

In arthritis the infra-red rays, by supplying moderate heat, dilate or widen the tiny blood vessels, increase the circulation and speed up the activity in the cells. The heat also tends to relieve the pain in the joints to some extent and makes the cold, clammy skin of the arthritic patient warm and red.

In certain eye disorders the application of heat is valuable in relieving the symptoms. Using infra-red rays for this purpose has advantages over other methods because it is clean, can be done without risk of infecting the wound, and without any direct contact with the lids. Furthermore, there is no pain from pressure such as may occur with the use of hot water bottles. Thus, infra-red ray treatments may be used in such eye disorders as sties, inflammation of the eye glands, the tear sac, ulcer of the cornea or front part of the eyeball or inflammation of the colored part of the eye ball known as iritis.

Infra-red ray treatments have also been used in sinus infections. Such treatment is comforting, helps increase the drainage from the sinuses and overcomes blocking of the nasal passages. Of course it is important to understand that this type of treatment should only be given under the doctor's direction.

Soil List Announced For Delaware Co.

Remembrance S. Eddy, chairman of the Delaware county agricultural conservation committee, has announced a list of 11 soil conservation practices for which Delaware county farmers may be paid this year.

They are: establishing sod waterways, seeding pastures, establishing dams and reservoirs for livestock water or irrigation, planting green manure crops, harvesting hayseed, constructing open farm drainage ditches, excavating ditches for tile drainage, planting trees, use of mulching materials, applying liming materials and applying fertilizer.

Farmers who wish to comply with the 1947 AAA program must sign up before April 1 to be eligible to participate in the payments, the Delaware county chairman said.

748 AT REVIVAL SERVICES HERE

Delegations, Ministers Here from Towns in Other Counties.

Attendance at the service of the Dr. John R. Rice union evangelistic campaign in Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church last night numbered 748. Delegations were present from West Jackson, Caledonia, Byhalia, Bucyrus, Upper Sandusky, and LaRue, and ministers attending from Lima, Bucyrus, LaRue, Dayton, together with 13 Marion pastors. Dr. Rice preached on "How America Got Back Her Scrap Iron," with references to the recent World War. Servicemen and women were given recognition and a book on "Heaven" by Dr. Rice was presented to relatives of persons in service who lost their lives. Rev. Marin Lewis offered prayer and dismissal prayer was by Rev. R. W. Faulkner of Calvary church.

Special music included a duet, "Fear Not, Little Flock," by Patsy and Peggy Irey of Caledonia, and Rev. Peter Quartel of Dayton sang. Mrs. Wesley Chatfield was pianist. Tonight, the service will be held in The Star auditorium, and a request was made that each person present at the service last night bring someone tonight who has not yet attended the revival services. Announcement was made that Saturday night Dr. Rice will preach on "All Satan's Apples Have Worms," and that Sunday afternoon, the sermon will be on "Church Members in Marion Who Make God Sick at His Stomach." The meetings will close Wednesday night.

His text taken from the fourth chapter of Amos, sixth to thirteenth verses, Dr. Rice said last night that God punishes nations for their sins. Citing "certain nations," he declared "France was known for her drunkenness; Russia's murderers had to be punished; and Germany became the first nation to really go modern in religion and turn against God who brought judgment on these nations through this last world war." He asked "What are the sins of America that brought world war upon us?" then spoke of "certain international sins" and personal sins of "most Americans today (who) are Christ-rejecting hell-bound sinners." The equipping of Japan for war "we did knowingly," he declared, and "The judgment of God is on a nation that is Christ rejecting." Six persons responded to the altar call.

LIQUOR

guarantee an employe a long term of service, and the temptation to be crooked would be largely removed."

Without specifying the direction from which the purported plot to outlaw the sale of intoxicants came, Herbert said it shaped up into four phases, beginning with the abolishment of the department of liquor control.

Designed To Return Saloon

Second, he continued, it was designed to "bring back the saloon of former days," and, third, "it is reasoned that, along with the return of the old type saloon will come all of its attendant evils—drunkenness, fighting, disorder, prostitution, brawling and increased crime."

As the final step, Herbert added, "in this phase it is assumed that the people will become indignant, and—to escape intolerable conditions—will gradually vote the sale of intoxicants out of the state."

Much can be said in the way of "honest criticism" of the operation of the liquor departments, the lieutenant governor declared, for "there has been some form of scandal in practically every administration since it was established by law in 1933."

He cited, as outstanding faults, hastily enacted legislation setting up the department when prohibition ended and politics accounting for too frequent changes of director and other top officials when administrations change.

May Recommend Reforms

The senate liquor committee, which adjourned yesterday for the weekend without setting a specific time to reconvene, appeared well on the road to recommending several legislative reforms in the state liquor department.

By the very frequency with which certain questions have appeared, evidences of just what the committee wants to find out also have appeared.

The committee seems to want to know about employe morale. It wants to know just how the department is operated and who has the responsibility and legal authority for what. It wants to understand the mechanics of liquor permits.

The members set the stage for an exhaustive survey of permits issued since the "freeze" went into effect before adjourning yesterday, asking State Liquor Director Stanley B. Cofall for a mass of data.

Set No Date

So important did committee members consider that phase of their inquiry they set no specific date for reconvening—pending compilation of statistics by the state liquor director.

At least one committee member, Senator Raymond Hildebrand of Toledo is on record favoring yesterday's proposal from Director Cofall—abolition of the state liquor board's ban against the operation of gambling devices in Ohio drink spots.

MARKET REVERTS TO INDECISION

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 28—The stock market reverted to indecision today as the rally of Thursday failed to follow through.

Slowdowns were frequent after a fairly active opening and the direction notably hazy near the fourth hour.

Numerous customers stood aside on the idea that the technical rebound of the preceding session may have rendered the list vulnerable to fresh selling.

Phillips-Jones common pushed up on the first dividend in 17 years. Crown Zellerbach and International Minerals edged forward in the wake of lifted quarterly payments. Resistant were U. S. Gypsum, Eastman, Johns-Manville, Allied Chemical and International Harvester.

problem which in turn would affect the current congressional drive for trimming his $37,500,000,000 figure, tax cuts and debt reduction.

One key phase of relief costs, the problem of feeding occupied Germany has brought a report to Mr. Truman from former President Hoover. After a personal review abroad, Hoover reported to the White House yesterday and went before the house foreign affairs committee today.

The Greek and related Middle East problems, as well as the European relief picture, could have constituted a situation serious enough for such a conference as that held at the White House yesterday. It brought together Marshall, the leaders of both parties on Capitol Hill, and the chairmen and ranking minority members of the house and senate foreign affairs and appropriations committees.

Should Britain find her resources so strained that it has become necessary to withdraw economic support from Greece, diplomats speculated it was likely she may have to curtail elsewhere commitments of her postwar policy.

"For the last 10 years we have been spending an average of $15,000 on maintenance where $50,000 a year was needed," he declared.

Do Your Share in a Great Service

TOMORROW Marion county will join with thousands of other communities throughout the country in launching the 1947 campaign for maintaining services of the Red Cross. Marion county's quota is $27,060, a small amount for the extensive and tremendously valuable work done under direction of the county Red Cross chapter.

Although the national campaign for a total of $60,000,000 is scheduled to continue throughout all of March, the expectation is that in Marion county the solicitation will be completed within two weeks. The expectation ought to be easily fulfilled and there is every indication that this result will be achieved. Various organizations throughout the city and rural districts have been voting substantial contributions and this may be taken as evidence of the prevailing public sentiment in support of the Red Cross. It may be regarded as an indication that individual gifts received in the house-to-house canvass now about to be started will come in abundance and send the grand total above the county's $27,060 quota within a short time.

It is hardly necessary to comment here upon the vast scope and indispensability of Red Cross service. Many of the details are being reviewed in the news columns of The Star and the record of what this great organization is doing and has done is gloriously inscribed on the pages of both peacetime and wartime history.

This account of ministrations to human needs so far transcends that of any other organization of a similar nature that it is almost beyond definite reckoning. This applies to service in all fields — international, national, state and local. Of the contributions made locally, 65 per cent will remain for use in Marion county and 35 per cent will go to service outside the home community. That is a fair and just distribution, and with it goes the assurance that every dollar will do a full measure of good, no matter where it is expended. Operating costs of the Red Cross are held to the lowest possible minimum, a predominant proportion of the work done being performed by volunteers who serve without pay. This means that when you give, your gift will go almost entirely to those in need of Red Cross service.

Remember the campaign slogan, "Give Where You Live," and have your contribution ready when the solicitor calls at your home.

They've Got Us Doing It!

KREMLIN approval of a United States proposal to keep hold of Japanese-mandated Islands occupied during World War II, has stirred American suspicion.

Russian indorsement of this entirely reasonable proposal gives Americans no choice but to look for the joker. This is the first time in the memory of living men that the Soviet Union has seconded a motion made by the United States, and it simply isn't credible that the Kremlin isn't trying to put over a fast one.

We expect to hear that the lights in the state department are on all night while Secretary Marshall and his aids search for the sleeper in Russia's unprecedented consent. It will not be surprising to learn that secret missions have been dispatched to learn, if possible, what Stalin ate for supper that induced such agreeableness. It just isn't in the cards for the Russians to take the good faith of the United State for granted —and now they've got the United States doing it too!

One for William Green

WILLIAM GREEN, spokesman for AFL, now is willing to concede an employer the constitutional right of free speech, if the national labor relations act is revised. Mr. Green also is willing to publish reports on union finances.

Reports on finances are a matter of opinion. But there's no room for a difference of opinion on the right of employers to enjoy the constitutional right of free speech. The part of the labor relations act forbidding employers to talk to their own men was perpetrated by angry men who were determined to build unions even if it meant suspending the Constitution.

There never has been any defense for it. It was as inexcusable as it had been in former times for some employers to rob employes of the right to express an honest opinion in a labor dispute. By pretending to excuse it and by pretending to excuse other practices which were inexcusable, union spokesmen revealed they were cut out of the same piece of cloth.

Mr. Green is tardy in admitting that it was wrong to bar employers from free speech in the conduct of labor relations. But, even though reluctantly, he has admitted it. That puts him one up on his labor-leading associates.

Did You Know?

When the Japanese took over the port of Darien in 1905, they built piers longer and larger than any in New York City at the time.

Leaders of the Japanese foreign colony in Brazil did not admit Japan's surrender for more than a year after V-J day.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

G.O.P. Rebellion May Be Shaping on Closed Shop.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—Five or more new sagebrush senators (Republicans) from the far west have been working together quietly on the highly pressured labor legislation. Their sparsely reported actions suggest they may be leading up to the first formidable intra-party rebellion on the closed shop issue. One of their number, Nevada's George Malone, made a speech out west recently saying he would not vote to outlaw the closed shop. Instead he proposed abolition of the check-off system, whereby the company pays the unions dues and deducts the amount from individual paychecks.

These sagebrushers refer to eastern Republicans as "dudes." They meet in private and are supposed to have sponsored a movement to get their local state unions together on an agreement for labor reform legislation. State locals around the Pacific coast area have shown some inclination to rebel against what they call the New York national leadership of their unions, particularly the Communist influenced directors. The senators and their local leaders may think they have some unofficial understanding, if not a direct agreement.

Heads Into Difficulties

The closed shop issue is, therefore, heading up into difficulties.

Basically the closed shop is a monopoly of employment. The unions can see plainly that business monopoly is repugnant to the interests of the public and to the democratic capitalistic system itself. Industrial monopoly has been overwhelmingly opposed for many years because it can charge its own price for its products without fear of competition, but it is uneconomic for many other reasons. It can control production and public supply. It can withhold its products or release them. It can control the raw materials sources of its own supplies, being in varying degrees a large or largest user. It can even control the quality of product, because you are restricted in buying whatever it produces. You cannot walk across the street and buy cempetuitively. But it is a permanent roadblock to free capitalism because it can prevent a competitor from ever getting started.

The unions cannot see that the same ojections hold true concerning a closed shop monopoly of employment. This is not just a question of a man's right to work, although that right should be established. Economically a closed shop can upset a national economy. Without fear of competition, it can fix prices by its wage, hours and other demands increasing the cost of production; indeed forcing them ever upward from year to year in an inflationary spiral. Similarly it can allow the quality of product to deteriorate by its workmanship without fear of interference. It can keep competitive workers from getting jobs and thus restrain trade. From the standpoint of public good, a monopoly of the jobs is as wrong economically as a monopoly of a business.

Now some union authorities tell me the unions could bargain collectively without danger to their rights under a law outlawing the closed shop. Indeed several states started referendum machinery to ban the union monopoly at the last election. The unions generally are well financed and able to care for themselves in equal dealing with management. But the pressures of their leaders has been built up so strong here in congress that certain experienced Republican leaders think they might endanger the coming reform bill by giving priority to this angle. Consequently, the closed shop issue may wait for a second bill to be passed later in the session.

Basic Union Difference

The project to outlaw industry-wide bargaining is in a little different shape. The AFL national leaders recognize that CIO promoted what is called the vertical union theory, but AFL is stringing along with CIO against any change in the existing union setups, possibly because of John Lewis' influence (he started CIO on the industrywide basis.) The tactics of the AFL locals, however, have been to deal locally with their employers, and consequently they are not as strongly wedded to the industrywide bargaining idea. In any event, labor could probably get along without fundamental difficulty on a local basis because its national leaders generally plan the wage drives anyway. What is essential is that the contracts expire at different dates so as to prevent national strikes.

In these two primary matters congress has been trending away from the theory that the government should provide something like compulsory conciliation, by judicial boards, to consider, delay, ease down, or settle major strike threats. Indeed such influential authorities as the National Association of Manufacturers and Brookings Institution (a nonpartisan research foundation) are advocating the new reform line even to the extent of proposing elimination of government intervention.

In the end, however, congress is apt to get back to something very much like the Case bill program establishing government authority — adding a provision against industrywide negotiations. It could pass overwhelmingly. The Republicans would not need to worry about losing many votes from their slim majorities on that issue. They can get enough Democratic votes to pass that over a presidential veto, and the situation calls urgently for some vastly popular corrections of that nature.

He Passed Her Up For A Pair Of Queens

A Los Angeles lady is seeking a divorce on the grounds that her husband is a poker addict.

She thought him the romantic type, but the only hands he was interested in holding were stud.

Her's was a vision of a home and children. He thought only of another type of full house.

"He carried a deck of cards wherever he went," she told the court. "Even on our honeymoon, he brought the card players along for recreation."

No woman likes to share her honeymoon with a poker game, even though it be a small, social one.

If he had to play cards on his honeymoon, at least he could have gone in for bridge. That way he could have paid his wife some attention whenever he was dummy.

One does not blame her for wanting no more to do with poker... unless maybe it's just to pinch the pot for alimony.

Farm Wealth Outlook

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON—The nation has come through a seven-year cycle of exceptionally good crop and food production weather. Does it face a similar cycle of poor weather? And food shortages?

These questions have been raised recently by old-time weather prophets who believe that the climate undergoes a change every seven years. Favored as the country was by good weather during the war, when high food production was needed, some amateur forecasters warn that a plague of droughts is due.

Next to crop prices, nothing is more important to the farmer's business than the weather. It often has a strong influence on prices he gets and prices consumers pay. One of the first things the farmer is likely to do when he gets up in the morning is to scan the sky, note the direction of the wind, and plan his day's work accordingly.

Can't Prove or Disprove It

Weather scientists say that facts known today neither definitely demonstrate nor disprove the existence of any real weather cycle. There is no evidence that 1947 will be the first of seven lean, hungry years.

In fact, the agriculture department has climbed out on a limb with a forecast of another good production season.

Farm production this year can be more than merely guessed at, even this early in the season, the department says. It explains that many factors already known will have a bearing on production this year. Looking back over the past seven bountiful years, the department by no means gives the weather major credit.

"Unusually favorable weather in the past seven crop years has been responsible," the agency says, "for only about one-fourth of the big gains in yields over the 1923-'32 pre-drought levels."

Listing Favorable Factors

Known factors which the department says indicates favorable yields this year include:

1. Weather conditions during the past fall and winter have been favorable. Because last year's crops were harvested early, fields could be prepared for fall and spring planting.

2. Quality seeds are in ample supply.

3. More commercial fertilizers and new farm machinery will be available.

4. Soil moisture is generally adequate.

5. The supply of irrigation water in the West is promising.

6. The supply of farm labor is expected to be much larger than during the war.

7. Last, but not least, farm products continue in strong demand to give the farmer an incentive to produce.

Taking all these factors into account and assuming average growing conditions, the department says 1947 crop yields per acre seem likely to average about 30 per cent higher than during the 1923-'32 pre-drought period. This would be the fourth highest of record, having been exceeded only in 1942, 1944, and 1946.

While optimistic with regard to production this year, the department adds this qualification:

"If the weather turns out better than usual, aggregate yields per acre could go even higher. On the other hand, bad breaks in the weather or severe outbreaks of insects and disease could result in a poorer outturn than now foreseen.

Counter Factors at Work

"But," the agency adds, "serious drawbacks rarely strike all parts of the nation in any one growing season."

The farmer has lots of outside help in his efforts to thwart bad weather.

The plant breeder who develops new and better varieties, the machinery manufacturer who designs more efficient equipment, the chemist who finds new uses for farm products and better fertilizers, the agricultural engineer who works out better ways to make the good earth produce, and many more, all help the farmer to produce more per acre.

The department has gone as far as forecasting probable yields per acre of many individual crops.

The probable yields of corn—the raw material for the nation's meat, milk and poultry product supplies—is given at 34 bushels per acre. While this is nearly four bushels less than last year, it nevertheless was previously exceeded only in 1942.

This forecast makes another three-billion bushel corn crop seem very likely. Production before the war averaged less than 2,700,000,000 bushels.

A wheat yield of 17 bushels per acre and a record production of more than 1,200,000,000 bushels seems reasonable to expect, the department says.

Production per bearing acre of fruit reached record proportions last year. The department says a repetition of this big performance can hardly be expected this year because of the drain on the vitality of trees and vines.

Enough Potatoes, Thanks

Nor does the department expect a repetition of last year's record yield of 184 bushels of potatoes to the acre. This yield produced a 100,000,000-bushel surplus that is costing the government upwards of $80,000,000 in carrying out price guarantees to growers. The 1947 forecast is 155 bushels per acre, which is still away above average.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Feb. 28, 1937.

Representative Henry Elbert Stubbs, 55, Democrat from California, died in Walter Reed hospital. His was the third death in the two-month old congress.

A costume party for children of the Congregation of Israel was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Freed on Vernon Heights boulevard in observance of the Feast of Purim.

The wedding of Miss Anna Phelps Tucker and Joseph Warren Davis of Cincinnati took place in Central Christian church with the pastor, Dr. Harry L. Bell reading the single ring ceremony.

An audience of more than 500 heard the program given by the Ohio Northern university a cappella choir at Epworth M. E. church. Dr. Edward T. Waring, pastor, spoke the invocation and benediction.

John C. Guthrie, 81, died in Grant hospital, Columbus, of injuries suffered in a fall. He was the father of Walter S. Guthrie of South Prospect street.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Emery of Prospect street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Feb. 28, 1927. Great Britain accepted President Coolidge's invitation to attend a new disarmament conference, but made the reservation that Britain's peculiar needs and position must be taken into consideration.

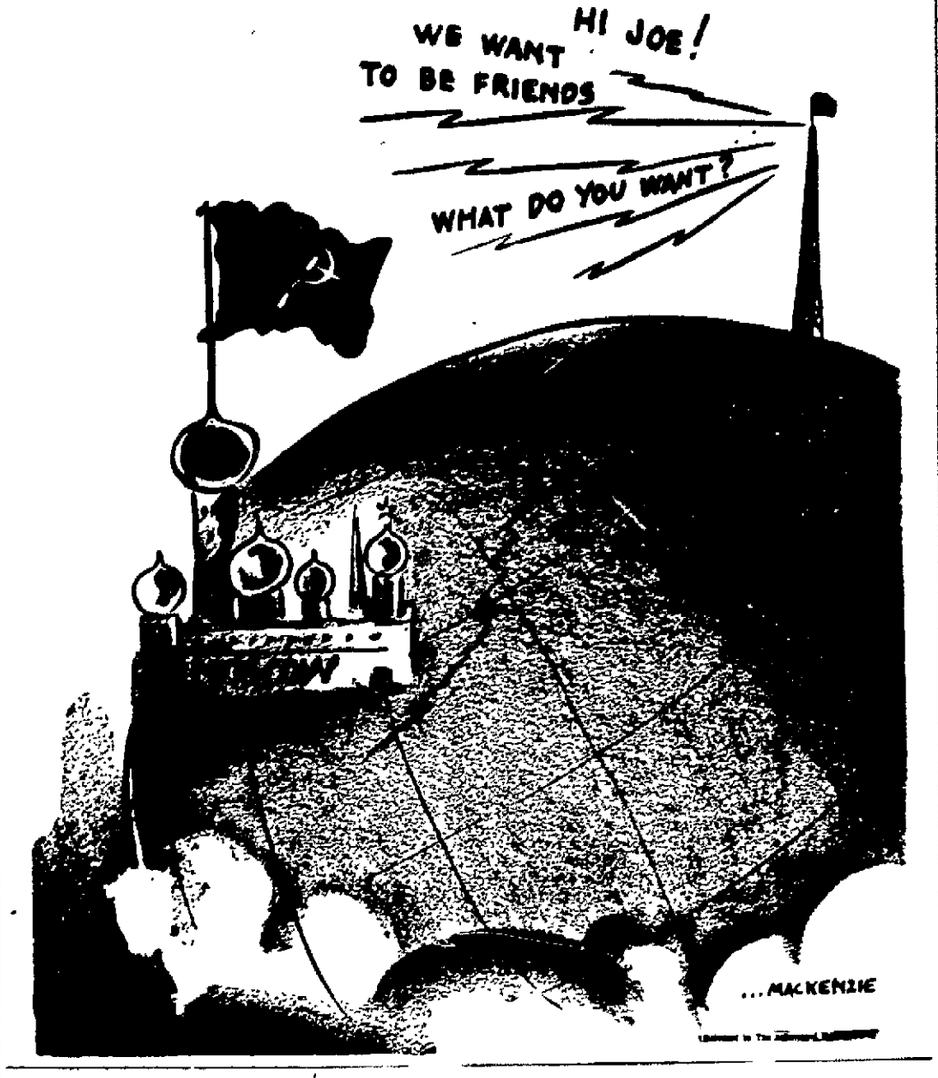
Funeral services were announced for Patrick Dwyer, 66, former city councilman and one of Marion's oldest grocerymen, whose death occurred the night before at his home on Silver street.

The largest shipment of candy ever made to New York City was carried through Marion when 10 full carloads of candy bars, weighing 400,000 pounds, passed through the city over the Erie railroad.

The Charles Schmidt drug store located in the George D. Copeland building at the southeast corner of Center and Main streets during the previous 18 years, was moved to 140 South Main street in the Terpany-Zimmerman building.

Copies of Marion's new city directory were distributed throughout the city. The directory included the names of nearly 14,000 individuals, a substantial increase over the number listed in the directory for 1925.

SUGGESTED SCRIPT FOR BROADCAST



Truman Common Gains

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—It is necessary to record that the sensitive political ticker shows sharp rises in Truman common and preferred. These stocks, which plunged so disastrously last November that the firm was expected to declare bankruptcy, have more than regained their lost ground and are now leaders in the market. Other securities, only a few months ago considered as gilt-edged, are even being dumped by traders who sold Truman short and are now forced to cover.

In this peculiar jargon, a financial reporter might describe the current condition of the political bourse. After enough of the congressional session to convey some idea of the quality of Republican leadership, the wiseacres are revising their calculations of the future. The Republicans are still favored. But they are no longer so heavily favored that no chance at all is given to the Democrats. On the contrary, a bet on President Truman to succeed himself is now regarded as a good speculative investment if the odds are attractive. No one is more pleased by or conscious of these interesting facts than President Truman.

Rough Seas in Sight

To be sure, there are going to be some very hard times ahead for the President. On the labor front, the peace which set in after Truman's first victory over John L. Lewis has made people forget that the Lewis problem is not yet solved. The existing contract between mine workers and government in fact expires on March 31. At present—and this is the alarming feature of the situation—no serious negotiations for a new contract are in progress, either between Lewis and the administration, or between Lewis and the mine owners. All three parties to the problem are waiting with bated breath for the supreme court's decision in the Lewis case, which was expected on Feb. 17, and now cannot be rendered until the next opinion day, March 3. Even if the opinion is handed down March 3, there will be little time remaining to reach a settlement before the contract terminates. And no one, least of all Truman and his staff, has any doubt that if Lewis can take this opportunity to deal a telling blow against the man who bested him, he will do so without counting the cost to himself, his union or the country.

Here, however, one encounters the new factor in the situation which largely accounts for the abrupt rise in the Truman stock. The President has ceased waiting impotently for events, which then catch him off balance. He plans ahead to meet them. The mine contract may expire May 31, but the Smith-Connally act, forbidding strikes against the government, does not lapse until June 31. And plans are already being made at the White House to use this weapon (not employed on the previous occasion) if Lewis makes it necessary.

This is symptomatic of a much larger phenomenon. Plans, are in truth, also being perfected at the White House for the strategy by which the President's gains will be consolidated and increased. The purpose is to convert current gains into a solid electoral majority approximately 20 months from now.

The central theme of this strategy is to present the country with a reassuring, rather carefully posed picture in two parts: Truman presiding alone over a prosperous nation; and Truman and Secretary of State Marshall laboring together for the peace of a troubled world. Every presidential move is being carefully tested in advance against this conception of the correct impression to make upon the voters. And besides those moves demanded by the pressure of events, the White House is cautiously preparing for certain new ventures.

Fading Contrast

The memory of Franklin Roosevelt's more stirring voice is fading, so that Truman pronouncements have stopped seeming, by contrast, to be made in a low rumble. In the next few months, it is thought that the time will be ripe for the first major presidential speeches of a new kind — neither indorsing his predecessor's ideas, nor dealing with any current emergency, but setting forth the President's own views on major national topics. He may make one on economic foreign policy on his way back from Mexico. Another address on the national resources balance sheet, and the danger of becoming a "have not" nation, is also under consideration. And so is a farm speech.

Meanwhile, the President and his staff are working very closely with the new executive director of the Democratic National Committee, Gael Sullivan, on the problem of revivifying the decayed party organizations all over the country. If this effort shows signs of success, Sullivan will succeed Postmaster General Robert Hannegan in a few months time.

Daily Bible Thought

It is great to finish a useful and grateful task. They who have no tasks should set themselves worthy ones.—Prov. 13:19: "The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul."

"These groceries cost a fortune, Mom—wouldn't it be safer if we took a taxie?"

Straight seams are one of the symbols of g grooming. They are in the master list of th things by which women are judged, like a cl neck, a reasonable facsimile of a manicure neat hair-do and an all-around appearance caring whether school keeps or not. It str us that women on the whole are better at sort of thing than men, many of whom are excusably careless and sloppy, but it also str us that many women never get over resen the necessity of being neat.

In fact, we'll stick out our columnar n and say that women as a sex are far more clined toward sloppiness than men as a and if no one braced them up they'd neg their stocking seams, their hair, their fing nails and their clothing. They keep up pearances only because they fear the repu tion of being slatterns. Isolate them on a de island, with no one to impress, or in the priv of their own bedrooms, and they'd go to pie

This impression is confirmed by the fact of the nation's most profitable enterprises grown up around the care and grooming women, who can't be trusted to wash their faces, comb their own hair and clean their fingernails, but must be processed by druds called beauticians, to make them presenta If the results are good—and they are—t only high-light the fact that women as a are incapable of coming up to snuff with hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of sistance.

"March To Church in March" Campaign Launched by Kiwanians; Pastors Guests

A citywide church attendance campaign was officially launched by the Marion Kiwanis club at its luncheon Thursday at Hotel [illegible]. The club, sponsoring the campaign, is using as its slogan "March To Church in March." Dr. John R. Rice, evangelist who is conducting services here, was guest speaker for the occasion. Also present with Dr. Rice was the director of congregational singing at the services, Dr. Harry [illegible] Clarke.

To begin the campaign, several hundred posters carrying the slogan are to be distributed and placed in store windows on Saturday by the Boy Scouts of the city, under the direction of the scout executive. Kiwanian Hugh Hay. Ten thousand stickers also bearing the slogan have been distributed throughout the churches of the city to be placed on doors and windows in homes and in automobile windows.

Ministers Are Guests

Ministers of the city were guests of the Kiwanis club at the luncheon when the campaign was launched. Many churches are planning to cooperate in the movement and some have organized visitation teams and telephone committees to promote church attendance among their own members.

All the churches have been requested, as a part of the campaign, to keep accurate records of their attendance at all worship services during the month of March and to report each week to the Kiwanis club the number present on the previous Sunday and the percentage of increase over the corresponding Sunday in February. The club is offering suitable awards to the church having the largest single attendance on any Sunday in the month.

All Kiwanians are being urged to attend church on Sunday and then to register at the club meeting each Thursday whether or not they were present in church on the previous Sunday.

The Kiwanis church committee that is heading the campaign is composed of Dr. G. G. Nuetzel, chairman, John H. Clark, Robert E. O'Connell, A. C. May, Rev. J. B. Holloway of Trinity Baptist church and J. R. Sager.

Ministers of the city who are members of the club are Rev. Holloway, Rev. H. M. McAdow of Wesley Methodist, Rev. Eldred W. Johnston of Central Christian, and Rev. Claire T. Crenshaw of St. Paul Episcopal church.

Dr. Rice spoke on the subject "The Four Biggest Fools in the Bible." He stated that anyone who says there is no God is a fool and anyone slow to believe in the Bible is a fool. He explained that honest investigations should be made, and stated, "you never find a man who does not believe in the Bible if he has read it."

In Memory Of

*Our dear husband and father, Elton J. Bush, who passed away one year ago today, Feb. 28, 1946.
In the cemetery, softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we love so dearly
But whom we could not save.
You gave no one a last farewell,
You said goodbye to none;
A weary heart had ceased to beat
Before we knew you'd gone.
And when the evening shades are falling,
And we are sitting all alone,
In our hearts there comes a longing,
If you could only come home.
You shall never be forgotten,
Never shall your memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts will always linger
Around the grave where you are laid.
Sadly missed by his wife, Lotus Bush and two sons, Douglas and Donald.

21 Indicted In Counterfeiting

Illicit Sugar Stamp Roundup, Which Began at Newark, Now Totals 44.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb 28—Twenty-one more indictments were returned by the federal grand jury here yesterday as a result of the government's investigation of a ring charged with dealing in illicit sugar ration stamps.

The new indictments, returned yesterday, named 18 persons and alleged that a truck driver's supervisor, four truck drivers, and 13 Chicago bakers and dairy operators had trafficked in counterfeit stamps good for 10,000 pounds of sugar.

The indictments brought to 44 the total number of persons indicted since Tuesday.

Among those indicted originally were Bloom Brunner, owner of the Kelser-Dowds wholesale house at Mt. Vernon, O., Paul E. and George Mills brothers and operators of a trucking concern at Newark, O., and Vance Bridgeforth of Chicago who was seized at Columbus He was alleged to have had 20,000 bogus sugar stamps in his possession

Bruner and five others were charged with a conspiracy to transfer 150 000 pounds of sugar illegally from the Mt. Vernon warehouses to Chicago, with the Mills brothers hauling the cargo

The indictment also charged the shipments were received by Stanley Migala, 40, and his partner, Albert Silver, operators of the Superior Food Products Co of Chicago.

Judge Michael L. Igoe issued bench warrants for the Ohioans and set bond at $5,000 each. The Mills brothers have been in the technical custody of federal agents at Newark for almost two months, Newark police reported.

Bridgeforth pleaded innocent to a charge of possessing counterfeit sugar stamps and his arraignment was continued to March 10 He was held under $25,000 bond.

John Ortmann, supervisor of drivers for the Anheuser-Busch yeast and malt division, Chicago, and who had been indicted earlier, was named in four of the indictments returned yesterday He was accused of conspiring with each of four drivers to transfer and possess counterfeit sugar stamps

U. S. District Attorney J. Albert Woll said the government had linked persons arrested in Chicago, Detroit, Tulsa, Columbus, and Milwaukee with a nationwide sugar ring which had diverted approximately 5 000 000 pounds into illegal channels. Use of counterfeit stamps he asserted, had netted the ring $500,000

COURT SAYS LAUSCHE APPOINTMENT VOID

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Feb 28—The Ohio supreme court ruled today that Republican Frank J Rasenig could hold the job as state public works director until next July 22, thus invalidating the appointment of Democrat John L. McCormick of Ravenna by former Gov. Frank J. Lausche

The decision settling the six-week battle for the $6,500 post came only three days after the supreme court heard arguments McCormick had contended that Lausche's action in appointing the Cincinnati Republican to the post last July 22 was illegal because the state constitution called the post "superintendent of public works," rather than director.

The court held that under an amendment to the general code in 1927, splitting the department of highways from that of public works, "there was a recognition or practical declaration that one and the same person should serve as the director of public works and the superintendent of public works."

"It long has been the practice for the governor to commission the appointee to be director of public works," the opinion said "Rasche was appointed by Governor Lausche xxx to administer the office of the department of public works xxx.

"The governor had no power to make an appointment xxx for a term either less or more than one year xxx and Rasche is entitled to hold the office for a term of one year from July 22, 1946 xxx There was no vacancy in the office on Jan 11, 1947."

Pattern for Permit Revocation Appears

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 28 — With 17 permits revoked in 17 cases heard, the state liquor control board appeared today to have settled down to a pattern in its probe of private club liquor licenses

To observers it seemed the board was bent on canceling virtually all permits in which an old charter amended for a change of name was advanced as the club's basis for the required three years of existence.

With only two cases scheduled today—the South Side Social club here and the Cavalier club of Lorain—Assistant Attorney General Charles G. Sonnur said he expected to continue the Cleveland hearings throughout next week.

Senate Committee Not To Confirm TVA Head

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 28—The senate public works committee voted 7 to 5 today to reject the nomination of Gordan Clapp as a director of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Chairman Revercomb (R-WVa) announced the committee's action but declined to say how individual members voted in the closed meeting

Revercomb said, however, that he voted for confirmation of Clapp, now general manager of the authority.

Clapp was named to succeed David E Lilienthal, who has been nominated for chairmanship of the Atomic energy commission. The nomination was opposed in prolonged hearings by Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) on grounds that Clapp permitted Communistic activities among TVA employes

Clapp denied any connection whatever with the Communist party or any sympthies with its principles

INDEPENDENT UNION HEAD ASKS REFORMS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 28—The president of an independent union asked congress today to restrict industry-wide bargaining, outlaw jurisdictional strikes and compel a 30-day cooling off period for mediation before walkouts or lockouts.

Walter W. Cenerazzo of Waltham, Mass., head of the unaffiliated American Watch Workers union, offered his suggestions to the senate labor committee in a prepared statement.

He also proposed banning Communists from unions and federal laws to enforce democratic procedure in union elections.

Like AFL President William Green and CIO President Philip Murray, however, Cenerazzo opposed in lump fashion all labor bills now before congress, contending these would only bring "more discord" between labor and management.

Legislation "Imperative"

At the same time President Edward A. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau federation told the house labor committee constructive labor legislation is "imperative" and endorsed among other proposals one to outlaw the closed shop

"The time has come," O'Neal said in his prepared statement, "for legislation which will properly protect the public's rights in labor disputes Farmers believe that for the good of our entire nation the economic warfare between industry and labor at the expense of the public must be stopped."

YOUR INCOME TAX

Using the Short Form

(This is the fifth of 12 stories explaining who must do what about his income tax return).

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb 28—You can file your 1946 income tax return on the 1040 short form if—

Your income, from any source at all, was under $5,000. If it was $5,000 or over, you must use the 1040 long-form.

James Marlow

Form 1040 is a 4-page form. It can be used two ways as a short form or as a long form. The main difference is

On the short form you don't figure your tax It's already figured for you in a tax table on the back You must figure it on the long-form.

When you use the short form you don't list any deductions for things like medical expenses, charitable contributions, and so on

You don't have to Everyone using the short form automatically is allowed about a 10 per cent deduction. That's taken care of in the tax table

If your deductions actually were more than 10 per cent of income, don't use the short form You'll lose money Use the long form

Must Itemize Deductions

With the long form you must itemize your deductible expenses but you can deduct for all of them

Husbands and wives with combined income under $5,000 can file separately or jointly on the short-form.

If their combined income is $5 000 o more but individually less, they can file separately on the short form or jointly on the form

Don't skip around on the short form Start at the top answering the questions as you go down

May Need Only One Page

Most people will need only page 1 Some with income from pensions or annuities, also will use the top of page 2

Here's how to do it

You, married, have two children You had $4 500 income from salary and $300 from dividends Your wife had no income

You write your name, address, social security number. Then you list as exemptions yourself, wife and two children, since they were dependent upon you.

(Each exemption you can claim knocks $500 off your total income before it becomes taxable)

Where it says 'your income' you write your employer's name and address List all your employers if you had more than one.

Add Incomes Together

Then separately, list your $4,500 salary and $300 from dividends Add the two The total is $4,800. Turn to the tax table on page 4 to see what your tax is

Because you're claiming four exemptions, look down the fourth column which shows that the tax on a man with four exemptions and $4 800 total income is $452 Write that on page 1, line 7

But during the year the boss withheld from your $4,500 salary a tax of $395. (In 1946 full tax was supposed to be withheld from all salaries and wages up to $5,000).

So you write that $395—the tax withheld from you—alongside (a) under line 8, page 1.

You look at line 7—the $452 in total tax—and at line 8—the $395 tax withheld. The difference—$57—is due to the tax on the $300 in dividends from which no tax was withheld in 1946

Tax Owed Listed

So you write that $57—the difference between the tax withheld and the full tax owed—on line 9.

Then you sign the return, tear page 1 off the 4-page 1040 form, and turn it in to the collector of internal revenue by mail or in person

But be sure, when you turn it in, that you also give the collector the $57 in tax still owed.

Note if too much tax was withheld from you in 1946—and you find the collector owes you a refund—mark the amount owed you on line 10.

In such a case, since you owe no money, you just file the return and the collector will refund to you the amount of money you've been over-taxed

Next. Your exemptions.

Claridon Eliminated by Grove City 41 to 30

Marion County Entry Fails To Hurdle 2nd Tourney Obstacle

Claridon bowed from the race to the end of the cage road last night at Westerville as they bowed 41 to 30 to Grove City in their second start in the Central District class B tournament. They previously had defeated Gremont in the opener Tuesday

In other tilts on the Westerville hardwood last night Bellbrook of Greene County University 38-32 Perry Township Athletic walloped Mt. Vernon St. Vincents 49-23, Groveport whipped Brookside 53-17 and Grand at Mt. Lebanon St. Mary 29-22

The Grove City Greyhounds racked up victory No. 19 at the expense of Marion county's representative. The visitors had dropped two contests during the season.

Gene and Jim Rush accounted a total of 21 points toward the Claridon cause as the Marion county entry went down fighting. The score was tied three times in the first period before Grove City

Claridon Cagers Injured

Noah Belknap, Claridon reserve, collapsed during the game at Westerville last night because of tournament pressure and had to be taken out with three minutes remaining. He was revived in the dressing room and is reported to be all right today.

Jim Roth suffered slight knee bruises when he ran against a wall in the third quarter but stayed in until the last two minutes of play at which time the legislation against fouling caught up with him.

took a 9-7 lead and added to it as the game advanced.

Center Pantzer of Grove City was second highest scorer of the evening as he rocketed 17 points through the nets for the victors. His total was exceeded only by Drake of Perry Township who netted 22 in the tilt with Mt. Vernon St. Vincents.

Southpaws To Spark Indians

Boudreau Says Tribe Will Be Stronger Through Signing of 4 Lefties.

By The Associated Press

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 28—Manager Lou Boudreau believes his Cleveland Indians will be strengthened considerably this season by southpaw pitching.

The Tribe has been weak in this department for several years, but there now are four portsiders in training camp trying to win places on the staff. Boudreau believes that two of them — Gene Bearden and Bob Kunava—have excellent chances

Les Willis and Dick Rozek also have impressed the manager but they're a little behind the others.

"I would say right now that Bearden and Kunava have excellent chances to become regular starters during the season," Boudreau said. "They've been showing us some pretty good stuff."

Bearden, a six-foot 200 pounder, compiled a 15-4 record at Oakland in the Pacific Coast league last year and Kunava started at Wilkes-Barre in the Eastern league, winning 14 and losing only six games before the Indians called him up last summer

Willis, 35, was acquired in the draft and has been known for good relief hurling. Rozek was recommended to the Indians by Boo Feller, who was the youngster under him at Great Lakes Naval Training Station. He never has played in organized ball but Feller says he's a great prospect.

Pitcher Bryant Stephens came to terms yesterday after talking over the phone with Tribe President Bill Veeck. Eighteen of the 19 pitchers on the roster now are in camp

WITTENBERG TAKES DAYTON IN HARD TILT

Double Overtime, 82 Personal Fouls Feature Match.

By The Associated Press

It's going to be many a night before Springfield basketball fans forget the windup of the Wittenberg college season.

The Lutherans and Dayton Flyers battled through two overtimes last night before Wittenberg eked out a 79 to 71 verdict, just a total of 14 players on persons from A total of 82 personal fouls and one technical were called.

At the finish Flyer Coach Joe Carter waved in two reserves who were sitting in the grandstand. One of them, Jack Zimmerman, even broke into the scoring column, while Dick Dean, whose specialty is football, rounded out the Dayton lineup.

Each quintet lost seven men by the officials' ruling. Among them were the Wittenberg center, Gene Fellmeth, stellar scorer, and Gene Hammond, the running mate. The Lutherans who took a 37 to 30 halftime lead, in fact, held that after the first extra period on a foul-forward Tom Yeiter added a free throw.

The victory enabled Wittenberg to conclude the campaign with 18 victories in 23 games. It was Dayton's fourth loss in 21 starts.

In two other contests last night Miami's Redskins set a new Oxford, O., scoring record in whipping Evansville, Ind. 91 to 70, while Wilberforce turned in a 62 to 56 last minute win over Tennessee State of Nashville.

Championship Bout on WMRN Tonight

Gus Lesnevich (above) defends crown against Billy Fox at Madison Square Garden tonight. This is the first light-heavyweight title match to take place in America since 1941

Fox has perhaps the most impressive record ever carried into the ring by a challenger. Although sometimes short on boxing finesse, sooner or later he seems to get in the finishing punch maker. Every one of the 48 foes he has tackled in his pro career has been knocked stiffer than a frozen mackerel

Stolid, oak-legged Gus, however, has a noble right cross and a chunking, thudding left that he does not carry around just for sparring. In the only defense of his crown since being discharged from the service he kayoed British Empire Champion Freddie Mills in England last May

Enjoy the excitement, blow by blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. station WMRN (1490 on your dial) at 8 p. m.

And remember men . . . LOOK sharp! FEEL sharp! BE sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

Farmer Falls, Middletown Stays in Tourney Running

By The Associated Press

Bettsville of Seneca county won its 24th straight game, Belmont of Belmont county had its 25-game winning streak broken, Farmer of Defiance county, class B state champion last year, was eliminated and Middletown, defending class A champ, stayed in the running in games played in high school basketball tournaments around Ohio Thursday night.

Bettsville's 24th win was a 62 to 27 decision over Ridgeway at Bascom; Belmont's demise came at Lafferty when Adena romped through with a 70 to 48 score.

Farmer was eliminated from any reclaim to its B title in the last eight seconds of its game with Delta at Leipsic. Charles Hunt of Delta chose that time to dump in a bunny shot giving Delta a 31 to 30 edge. Farmer, winner of 18 and loser of five this season, led 19 to 9 at the half.

Middletown had little trouble in disposing of Xenia Central, 40 to 18, at Dayton. Bob Grimes led the attack with 13 points and it was a sweet victory for the A champions who had earlier in the season lost a one-point game to the same team.

Four more perfect records go on the block Friday night. In class A Bryan will seek to protect its 14-game streak when it tangles with Montpelier and Upper Arlington plans to stretch its skein of 18 when it meets Delaware Willis.

The class B perfect records imperiled will be Frazeysburg's string of 26 against Zanesville St. Nicholas and West Union's 21 in a row when Lynchburg provides the opposition.

Two fine Central district records will be endangered Friday at Westerville when Caledonia (21-1) tangles with Newark St. Francis (23-2).

Newark, former state class A champion, continued its winning ways with a 74 to 39 win over Westerville, bringing Newark's record to 30 wins and three losses. Columbus Central eliminated Columbus East 45 to 34, after having lost the city league title to East six days ago.

Longest game of the tourneys to date was Painesville's 54 to 52 victory over Berea in two overtimes in the Euclid Shore sectional. Chillicothe, strongest team in the southeast, manhandled Wellston 55 to 29; Greenfield McClain barely made it past Lancaster 31 to 30; Findlay now has a 16-2 mark after its 47 to 30 win over St. Marys; Cincinnati Elder (13-4) trimmed Cincinnati Woodward 54 to 22 and Cincinnati St. Xavier (19-4) took care of Norwood 29 to 10. At Dayton, Hamilton Catholic (18-2) disposed of Troy 41 to 25.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"I'M only sure of one thing," Mary said, as she gathered up her hat, coat, gloves and purse in one hurried swoop upon the chair where I had tossed them. "If it's anybody except room service, I don't want to see him, her or it. Is there any room where I can hide?"

"Only the bathroom," I said, pointing to the door, and she dashed toward it, throwing an admonition over her shoulder.

"If it's a Veritzen," she said, "you'd better flag room-service. Tea for two — they'll smell the mouse that's hiding in the wainscoting."

"If I can," I said, as I went to the door. It opened upon the regal figure of Olga, exiled queen of Transvania, but now for several happy years the wife of Philip Veritzen.

Breathtaking Romance

It is a breathtaking romance those two have experienced, and I thrill to the memory of it every time I see Olga, now one of my best friends. It began in the Transvanian court when both were young, Olga a visiting princess whom the old king wished to make the bride of his oldest grandson, and Philip, a young officer of the court, who, no one suspected, was another grandson of the old king, "by bar sinister." The king had educated and befriended him, ever since Philip's father, the monarch's favorite son, had died with Philip's beautiful mother, an actress, in a suicide pact, because they could not wed.

But friendship and kinship had vanished when the old king discovered that Olga and Philip loved each other. Philip promptly was banished to America. Olga, after the usual pressure of royal courts had been put upon her, finally yielded, married the Crown Prince, and in due time, became queen.

Climbed to Success

Philip climbed from one success to another and married a lovely gentle girl, Noel's mother, who died in the boy's early childhood. But he never forgot Olga, nor she him, and, after, almost unbelievable happenings, linking the two, culminating in the widowed queen's exile with her daughter, the princess Olina, the two found each other again, and were now spending a wonderful autumnal life together.

The memory film from my mental camera faded—it had taken but an instant to unroll—and I smiled at my guest.

"Olga!" I said. "I'm so glad to see you," and was conscious that I was not telling a falsehood. I wished that I could enlist her strength and her wisdom for Mary's problem.

But her returning smile was a wan one.

"And I to see you," she said, sinking into the chair I pulled out for her, as if she were spent with weariness. "And as usual I am bringing a grave problem to you for help and counsel."

"Surely you know," I told her, "that I am at your service, always."

"Indeed, I do know it, my dear Madge," she said. "And this problem concerns you also."

Alert and Suspicious

I threw up my head alertly, with a suspicion of what was coming.

"It's about Mary," she said.

"Mary!" I parried. Then I saw that she was looking intently at something in the chair from which Mary had snatched her things. It was an exquisite handmade kerchief, of a pattern which Mary has made her own for years—she had dozens left over from pre-war days, and has cherished them.

"Mary is here, isn't she?" she asked. "She has come to you for sanctuary. Oh, I am so glad!"

"Yes, she is here," I said, "but before you see her, as you shall, please excuse me for a second."

I went swiftly to the telephone, and called room service.

"Has that tea order for Mrs. Graham's study been sent up yet?" I asked.

"I am so sorry," the voice at the other end said, "but we were delayed. It will start up in two minutes."

"Take a little longer," I told her, "and make the order for three. I have another unexpected guest."

"Very well!" she said. "We'll send the tray right up."

I turned to find Olga smiling at me.

"You should say 'unwelcome,'" she told me.

"Olga!" I protested. Then I started for the door. "I'll get Mary," I said. But she put up a protesting hand.

"Not yet," she said. "You must hear first what Philip and I have heard, and tell us what is best to do."

The Pacific ocean has the deepest known depression in the earth's surface; Mindanao Deep, off the Philippines, is 35,400 feet deep. It would take two and one-half Pikes Peaks to fill the hole.
